

RETRACTION

To inform the readers about cases of violation of authorship ethics the journals' editorial boards realize the retraction of articles. The procedure applies to the following cases: multiple or concurrent publications, unreliable or falsified data, misrepresentation of information, violation of authorship ethics, concealing conflict of interest, and plagiarism detected after the paper was published.

The retraction may be initiated after receiving information about such violations from the author or other persons.

The procedure of retraction of the articles from the journals "Vestnik of Moscow State Linguistic University. Humanities", "Vestnik of Moscow State Linguistic University. Education and teaching", "Vestnik of Moscow State Linguistic University. Social sciences" goes as follows:

- 1) After receiving information about any of the ethics violations mentioned above an editorial board sets an inquiry committee.
- 2) If the violation has been confirmed and the decision has been made to retract the article, the reason and the date for the retraction is stated in the minutes of the meeting of the editorial board. In the online version of the journal the article is marked as RETRACTED in the contents and on each page of the article, the date of retraction is also indicated.
- 3) The minutes of the meeting of the editorial board, including the name of the author, the title of the article, its dateline, the decision of the board, the reason for retraction, composition of the board and the date of the meeting, are sent to the Committee on Publication Ethics and to the editorial boards of online scientific publication data bases (National Electronic Library and CyberLeninka). After application processing, the information about the retraction of the article is published in online data bases. The links to the retracted publication are eliminated from RSCI and are excluded from the publication activity of the author.
- 4) The editorial board makes decision concerning further cooperation with the author of the retracted article at a general meeting.
